Welcome Message

"Welcome to the Egyptian Society of Cardiothoracic Surgery (ESCTS)"

Since its establishment, the Egyptian Society of Cardiothoracic Surgery (ESCTS) has been committed to advancing the field of cardiothoracic surgery in Egypt through excellence in clinical practice, education, and research. Today, we continue to build on this strong legacy by fostering innovation, supporting the next generation of surgeons, and strengthening our engagement with the international surgical community.

Our vision is to position ESCTS as a leading regional and global reference in cardiothoracic surgery—one that sets high standards in patient care, promotes cutting-edge scientific contributions, and facilitates meaningful collaboration across borders.

At ESCTS, we believe that continuous learning, multidisciplinary collaboration, and adherence to the highest ethical and professional standards are essential to improving patient outcomes and shaping the future of our specialty.

We are proud of the growing community of dedicated surgeons, educators, and researchers who form the backbone of our Society. Together, we are working to create a dynamic platform that supports professional development, encourages knowledge exchange, and drives impactful advancements in cardiothoracic care.

We invite you to explore our work, engage with our initiatives, and be part of a growing network dedicated to excellence in cardiothoracic surgery.

Prof. El-husseiny Gamil
